ABOUT THE PRESENTERS

Sherene Zolno, internationally known business consultant, executive coach, and educator, works extensively with leadership teams and has developed for them the Leadership for a Healthy World™ model – now used to guide leaders in their internal coaching, mentoring and leadership practice. Her structure for change, the Timeline for Tomorrow, is being utilized as the basis for transformational change efforts in major organizations across the US, Canada, Russia and in Southeast Asia. She was an early proponent and teacher of Appreciative Inquiry, and has used the AI framework in her consulting practice for nearly 20 years, developing the unique integration of positive and whole system change.

As chair of the Leadership Institute of Seattle's graduate program in "Leadership and Organization Development", she introduced the most current thinking and skills to students, contributing to a 'positive revolution in change' within the Organization Development (OD) Profession. A frequent speaker and contributor in the field, she recently spoke (and was published) on "Getting Smart About System Change," at the OD Network's National Conference, and on "Appreciative Leading: seeing our way to a healthy world," for both the International OD Association conference in Canada, and the AI World Conference in Nepal.

Ms. Zolno has served in positions of leadership in corporations, nonprofits and government, authored numerous articles and monographs for professional publications, and is often asked to speak at business meetings, psychological conferences and leadership programs. She has served on the faculties of Santa Ana College, the University of San Francisco, Seattle University, the American College of Medical Practice Executives, and Bastyr University/LIOS (Leadership Institute of Seattle).

From his background as the leader and Chief Executive Officer of several major healthcare organizations, Rick Skillman brings a unique perspective to his consulting and training practice. His focus is on how leaders can align sound business judgment with a stance for respect, hope and capability directed to employees at every organizational level.

His coaching revitalizes leaders' commitment and positive intentions, helps build strong teams, and encourages breakthroughs in financial and performance outcomes.
